

Animals on College Premises

In compliance with the law, Palmer College of Chiropractic (College) generally allows individuals with disabilities to bring service animals on College premises for work or tasks related to disabilities. As such, The Animals on College Premises policy (Policy) establishes and enforces responsibilities, rules, exclusions, accommodation processes and/or procedures necessary to fully comply with the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), ADA Amendments Act of 2008 (ADAAA), Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, the Fair Housing Act, and all other relevant laws and regulations.

SERVICE ANIMALS ON COLLEGE PREMISES

Service Animals

A service animal is an animal individually trained to do work or perform tasks for a person with a disability, and the work is directly related to the individual's disability. An animal fitting this description is considered a service animal under the ADA regardless of whether the animal is trained under a certified society, or is licensed by state or local government.

Service animals include, but are not limited to, dogs and miniature horses. Miniature horses generally range in height from 24 to 34 inches measured to the shoulders and generally weigh between 70 and 100 pounds.

Responsibility for Service Animals

A service animal is the sole responsibility of the animal's owner/handler at all times, including, but not limited to:

1. The cost, care, and supervision of the animal;
2. Compliance with any laws pertaining to animal licensing, registration, vaccination, and owner identification;
3. Keeping the animal under control and taking effective action should it become out of control;
4. Financial responsibility for property damage or bodily injury;

5. Feeding and walking the animal;
6. Prompt collection and disposal of the animal's waste;
7. Ensuring the animal is clean and in good health. Measures should be taken at all times for fleas, ticks, and odor control;
8. Taking reasonable safety precautions as requested by the College (e.g. booties and/or lab coats for service animals); and
9. Ensuring the animal is harnessed, leashed, or tethered at all times unless such devices interfere with the animal's work or the owner/handler's disability prevents using such devices. In such a case, the owner/handler must maintain control of the animal through voice, signal, or other effective controls.

Service Animal Etiquette for the College Community

PROHIBITED ACTIVITIES

The following are prohibited activities:

1. Asking for details about a person's disability or requesting medical documentation (other than authorized College personnel);
2. Requiring specific identification card or training documentation for the service animal;
3. Asking the owner/handler to require the service animal to demonstrate its ability to perform the work or task;
4. Petting a service animal;
5. Distracting a service animal from its work;
6. Feeding a service animal;
7. Deliberately startling, teasing, or taunting a service animal; and
8. Separating or attempting to separate a person with a disability from their service animal.

LIMITED INQUIRIES

In an effort to promote the safety and well-being of students and employees and to protect College property, authorized College officials and/or Campus Security may, with reasonable cause, request valid evidence of identification from any individual found on College premises.

When it is not obvious what service an animal provides, only two question may be asked:

1. Is the animal a service animal required due to a disability?
2. What work or task has the animal been trained to perform?

Denial of Entry or Removal from College Premises

A service animal may be removed or denied entry from all or certain areas of College premises if:

1. The animal poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others or College operations;
2. The animal fundamentally alters the nature of the College's programs, services, or activities; or
3. the animal is disruptive or out of control and the animal's owner/handler does not take effective action to control it;
4. The owner/handler of the animal has not complied with applicable laws (e.g. animal licensing, registration, vaccination, owner identification);
5. The animal is not housebroken; or
6. The animal is a miniature horse and the College cannot accommodate its type, size, and weight.

As part of the interactive accommodation request process, an individualized assessment will be administered before a service animal is denied entry. An individualized assessment may include the nature, duration and severity of the risk, the probability of harm or injury, and the availability of modifications to minimize risks.

When there is a legitimate reason to ask that a service animal be removed or denied entry, the College will offer to provide a different reasonable accommodation/academic adjustment to the person with the disability in lieu of the animal's presence on College premises.

There may be designated relief areas on College premises for service animals. Additional information can be provided by communicating with the relevant point of contact noted in the "Contacts" section of this Policy.

CONFLICTING DISABILITIES

Individuals with disabilities that may be impacted by the presence of animals on College premises should communicate with the relevant point of contact noted in the “Contacts” section of this Policy. The appropriate point of contact will facilitate a process to resolve the conflict that considers the disability-related needs/accommodations and/or academic adjustments of all persons involved.
