

Biography – Michael Norris

Michael Norris, Ph.D., Vice Chancellor for Admissions

Michael Norris, Ph.D., was named Palmer's vice chancellor for admissions in March 2020. He's responsible for providing leadership in strategic planning and initiatives related to new student recruitment and enrollment. He previously served as director of enrollment for transfer, international, evening/weekend and graduate programs at Simpson College. Michael has worked in higher education enrollment management for 23+ years, including leadership roles at Simpson College, Drake University, and Grand View University. He holds a Doctor of Philosophy in Education from Iowa State University, a master's in business administration from Drake University and a Bachelor of Arts from Simpson College.